Warren Mayor Distributes Free “No Peddlers” Window Stickers

Warren, MI – In response to complaints by city residents about peddlers, salespersons and solicitors at their homes, Warren Mayor Jim Fouts is distributing free window stickers that read:

“The complaints I receive daily are about individuals knocking on their doors or ringing their doorbells trying to sell items,” said Fouts, who says these individuals have become a nuisance to residents.

“Senior scam artists have become all too frequent in our city. Hopefully, display of this sticker on the door or window will eliminate this threat,” said Fouts, who has directed city police to prosecute scam artists. “They knock on a door, make ridiculous promises and walk away with an unsuspecting residents cash,” said Fouts. “As our senior population grows, we get more reports of scam artists, especially in warmer weather.”
