Warren Asks For Help For Hurricane Harvey Victims

Warren, MI – Warren Mayor Jim Fouts’ office is collecting non-perishable food items to distribute to Hurricane Harvey victims.

Fouts said the items can be dropped off at the Mayor’s Office on the second floor of city hall or the Warren Community Center on Arden west of Mound.

“We know what it’s like to have most of a city underwater,” said Fouts, referring to the August 2014 record flooding in Warren. “It doesn’t compare to Houston’s flooding, but we needed outside help like the Southern Baptist Convention volunteers to help. “Our drive is an example of Americans helping other Americans in need.”
