Warren Officials Team Up for Listening Tours

Warren, MI (Jan. 17, 2024) – Officials in Warren are joining forces for a series of Listening Tours with residents. The sessions are a joint effort between Warren Mayor Lori M. Stone, and the Warren City Council. The sessions provide an opportunity for residents to connect with city officials, offer feedback on city services, and share concerns and suggestions. Mayor Stone will attend the tours, along with council members and city department heads.

“Listening, is one of the most important jobs we can do as elected officials to improve the lives of the people we serve,” said Warren City Council President Angela Rogensues. “City council is thrilled to partner with Mayor Stone to learn how we can better serve the community.”

“We are here to listen to the concerns of the people who live and work in our great city,” said Mayor Stone. “We want to stay connected with residents, hear their feedback, and use it to improve the quality of life and services in Warren.”
