Warren Restaurant Week Serves Up 10 Days of Dining, April 10–19, 2026

Citywide celebration invites residents and visitors to explore exclusive dining deals while supporting local restaurants.

(Warren, MI) – The City of Warren is proud to announce the return of Warren Restaurant Week, taking place April 10–19, 2026. For ten delicious days, residents and visitors are invited to explore the city’s diverse dining scene while supporting the locally owned restaurants that help power Warren’s economy.

Participating restaurants across the city will offer exclusive, limited-time promotions created specifically for Restaurant Week. From “Dinner for Two” specials to discounted featured dishes and fixed-price menus, diners will find options to fit every taste and budget.

Warren Restaurant Week showcases the wide variety of culinary options available throughout the city while encouraging the community to support locally owned and operated businesses. Whether trying a new restaurant for the first time or revisiting a longtime favorite, it’s an opportunity to discover something delicious close to home.

“Warren Restaurant Week is an opportunity for our community to come together and support the restaurants that serve our residents year-round,” said Warren Mayor Lori M. Stone. “Our dining scene reflects the diversity of our city — you can truly enjoy flavors from around the world without ever leaving Warren.”

A full list of participating restaurants and their special offers is available at CityOfWarren.org/RestaurantWeek. Menus and promotions vary by location and will be updated throughout the event.
